

EDITORIAL

While presenting Volume IX, 1985 of "Miscel·lània Zoològica", we are glad to inform you of the higher editorial activity of the journal.

The key to the increasing dynamics of our publication is mainly the fact that its contributions are cited or abstracted in 18 international publications and that it belongs to the European Association of Science Editors (EASE).

Herewith, the authors receive more reprint requests and many more works are submitted to be published.

The quality of the journal is increasing not only due to the works themselves but also to the fact that the Editorial Board is now more selective with them.

We hope that these changes and improvements will start showing in this issue.
