The Fundación Dr. Antonio Esteve (Esteve Foundation), established in 1983, has the main aim of encouraging progress in Pharmacotherapy through communication and scientific discussion.

The Foundation wishes to promote international cooperation in pharmacotherapeutic research and, to that end, organizes international multidisciplinary meetings where small groups of researchers can discuss the results of their work. Such discussions find an outlet in various publication formats such as the Esteve Foundation Symposia and the Esteve Foundation Discussion Groups.

Other Esteve Foundation activities include organizing meetings to discuss problems of a more local scope, published as monographs or notebooks. The Foundation also participates in conferences, seminars, courses and other forms of support of the medical, pharmaceutical and biological sciences, not least among which is the Research Prize, granted biennially to the best article published by a Spanish author within the field of pharmacotherapy.

Striking among the variety of publications that the Esteve Foundation promotes is the series Pharmacotherapy Revisited, which compiles the main articles that laid the foundation of a specific discipline in several volumes, in facsimile edition.
